

James Squire

Each beer tells a story of Australia's first brewer...

A MAN OF MANY TASTES

Throughout his life, James Squire always took the path less travelled. Today, his legacy lives on – in the beer that bears his name, and in the attitude and approach of men of many tastes. Risk-takers and mould-breakers, James Squire drinkers like to push boundaries and challenge convention.

ONE FIFTY LASHES PREMIUM PALE ALE

The story goes that when James Squire was discovered stealing ingredients from the stores to make the colony's first batch of beer, the Judge ordered 150 lashes ... plus 2 barrels of ale. Thankfully for us, James Squire was a far better brewer than he was a thief.

Refreshing character and a fruity nose with hints of passionfruit, grapefruit and citrus.
